

Training of Trainer (ToT) Programme
on
Re-Circulatory Aquaculture System (RAS)
(06-10 August, 2018)
Aquaculture Research and Training Unit, Chinhat
ICAR-National Bureau of Fish Genetic Resources, Lucknow

Training of Trainer (ToT) Programme on Re-Circulatory Aquaculture System (RAS) training (06-10 August, 2018) has been inaugurated at Aquaculture Research and Training Unit, Chinhat, ICAR-National Bureau of Fish Genetic Resources (NBFGR), Lucknow by Dr Ravindra Kumar, Acting Director of Institute. Participants from state of Jammu & Kashmir, Punjab, Haryana, Madhya Pradesh, Jharkhand, Maharashtra, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Tamilnadu participated in the programme. Twenty two (22) participants have introduced themselves as representative stake holders of country such as state fisheries departments, progressive fish farmers and fisheries entrepreneurs. Dr Ravindra Kumar highlighted importance of water and its productive use in the inland fisheries sector with special reference to importance of re-circulatory aquaculture system in the country. Dr S. K. Singh, Principal Scientist and Scientist Incharge, ARTU, Chinhat, Lucknow welcome the guest and participants along with outlines of training programme. Shri Parvez Khan, Fisheries entrepreneur Deva Fisheries, Barabanki, U.P. shared his experience on Re-Circulatory Aquaculture System (RAS). The technical session started with relevant lecture on the day.

