

News of Training of Trainer Programme

on

Re-Circulatory Aquaculture System (RAS)

(06-10 August, 2018)

Aquaculture Research and Training Unit, Chinhat

ICAR-National Bureau of Fish Genetic Resources, Lucknow

Training of Trainer (ToT) Programme on Re-Circulatory Aquaculture System (RAS) (06-10 August, 2018) under National Fisheries Development Board sponsorship has come to end at Aquaculture Research and Training Unit, Chinhat, Lucknow on dated 10/08/2018. Dr. K. K. Lal, Director, ICAR-NBFGR, Lucknow presided over valedictory function. He has interacted to each and every participants (22) from the state of Jammu & Kashmir, Punjab, Haryana, Madhya Pradesh, Jharkhand, Maharashtra, Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Tamilnadu. In his remarks he said that multiple fish species can be cultured in the Re-Circulatory Aquaculture System depending upon local needs. He wished all success to the participants for the applications of knowledge gained in this particular training programme. Miss Jaswanti Jaini, represented National Fisheries Development Board, Hyderabad as guest of honour. She highlighted importance of NFDB in the aquaculture sector. The participants have given their point of view about successful conduct of training programme. Dr. S. K. Singh, Principal Scientist, ARTU, Chinhat, Lucknow and Training Coordinator has given detail information related to the training programme. He has emphasised significance of bilingual conduct of training for heterogeneous stakeholders. The participants have received their respective certificate at the end of programme. During course of training programme pedagogical and androgogical tools were applied for the benefit of participants in informal mode.

